DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's amendments in the reply filed on February 19, 2009 have been acknowledged and entered. The reply included cancellation of claims 13-21 and addition of new claims 26-38.

Status of Claims

2. Claims 22-38 are pending, claims 22-25 have been previously withdrawn from consideration, and claims 26-38 are currently under consideration.

Election/Restrictions

3. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
- I. Claims 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, and drawn to a substrate for bio-microarray with an immobilization layer and an anti-reflection layer formed only in a region in which the immobilization layer is formed, classified in class 422, subclass 57, for example.
 - II. Claims 27, 29, 31, 33, 35, 37, and 38, drawn to a substrate for bio-microarray with an immobilization layer and an anti-reflection layer formed only in a region other than a region in which the immobilization layer is formed, classified in class 422, subclass 68.1, for example.

4. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are independent and patentably distinct. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the invention of Group I includes an anti-reflection layer formed only in a region in which an immobilization layer is formed, which is not required by the invention of Group II. The invention of Group II includes an anti-reflection layer formed only in a region other than a region in which an immobilization layer is formed, which is not required by the invention of Group I. Therefore, the inventions of Groups I and II have different designs, modes of operation, and effects.

5. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);

(d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;

(e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
